& Stone base - 29"x16"x5"

Jill Steenhuis

An Atlanta native and graduate of Sweet Briar College ('80) who has been living and painting in Aix-en-Provence, France for over 40 years. Her artwork is part of the permanent collections of several museums and important private collections in America. She was selected by the Smithsonian Institute in 2006 as the Cézanne specialist for the 100th anniversary of the artist's death and has appeared on Good Morning America.

Sergio Ruffato

Jill's son and graduate of the Savannah College of Art and Design ('12) with a BFA in sculpture, was born and raised in Aix-en-Provence, France. He has exhibited his metal sculptures at several prestigious fairs in Paris and Lyon and has public art installations in Marseille and Huntsville, confirming his path as an art ambassador between France and America.
